"Ee Pravasikalil Oruvan: the novel written by Varghese

During his travels to Kashmir, Varghese used to visit the tomb of Jesus, as believed by the Buddhists, at Rauza Bal, Khanyar, in Old Srinagar, where Jesus is believed to have been buried after a long normal life.

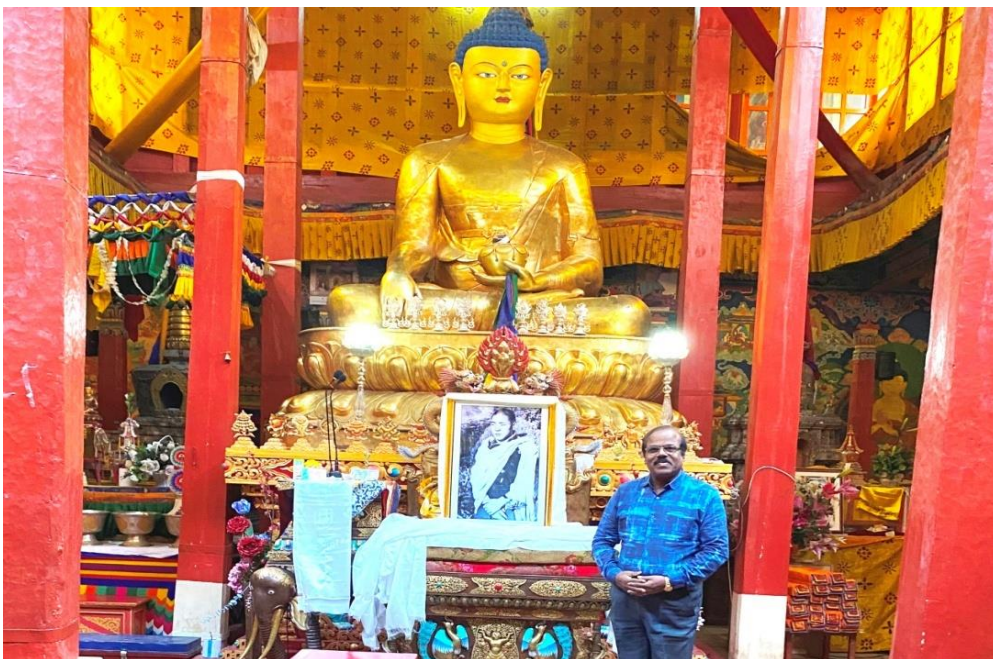

Varghese also lived a Buddhist monastic life for nearly 2 months in the "Hemis monastery" (Hemis Gompa) in Ladakh, where, as per Buddhist records, Jesus Christ had lived a Monastic life, from his teen age of 13th year till he was 24 years old, and later Jesus is believed to have been traveling in the ancient Buddhist and Vedic spiritual centers in India radiating spiritual energy.

Varghese used to write articles in the leading publications like times of India, Indian Express and Manorama Supplement under the pen names of Anuranj and Niranjker.

During the late 80s, in the initial stage of local distribution food products in the gulf countries, the quality and packing standards of Indian food products available in the international markets was so low that even Indians preferred other country products especially that of Pakistan.

Regularly adding more products to the product list; increasing frequency in shipments exported overseas; expanding sales areas and penetrating more countries in the distribution of products under the brand names of VIJAY, JAY, ROMA, MOOLANS, ELITE, BUTTERFLY etc, Varghese Moolans Group has eventually reached out to more than two dozen countries of the world in marketing.

This was achieved by signing marketing agreements with Mr. Awda Mohd. Al-Zahrani and Mr. Khalid Hadi Al-Marri to develop the distribution network all over Middle East.

By the implementation of incessant and rigorous marketing strategies including persistence of quality, adoption of international standards in packing, and timely distribution in the International markets comprehensively opted by Varghese, the International negative trend towards Indian Products was slowly reversed.

And thus, during the middle of 1990s, the demand for Indian Products started to increase steadily. Thus Indians, Arabs and finally Pakistanis started consuming Indian Food Products.

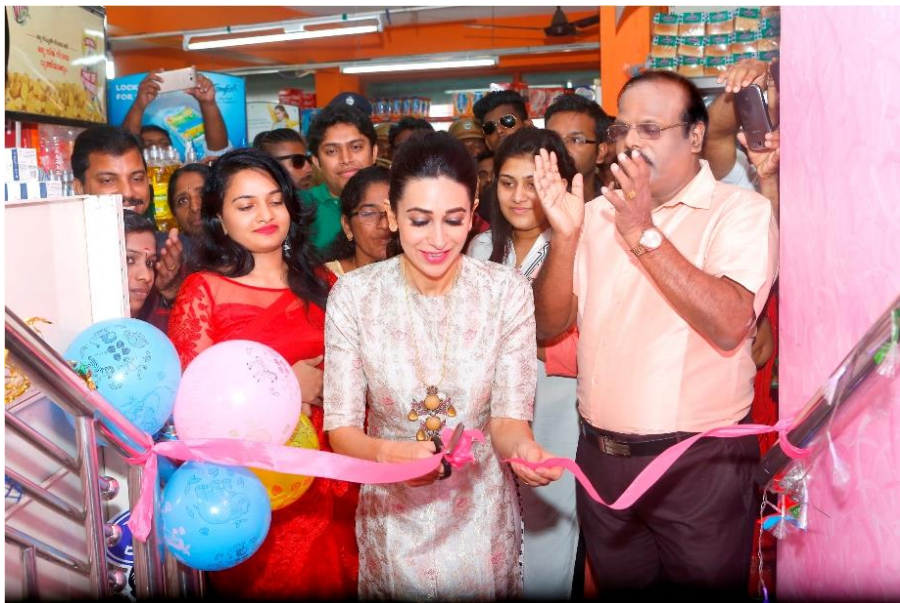

Currently, Varghese Moolans group own nearly a dozen companies in overseas countries and some manufacturing units, with more than 300 products, including variants, exported and distributed in more than 2 dozen countries worldwide. More than 1500 persons, including Indians and foreigners are deployed under Varghese Moolans group in India and abroad.

Dr. Varghese Moolan Presents
"Dimensional Progressive Theory" in British Parliament

After Presenting the "Dimensional Progressive Theory", Dr. Varghese is being honored by British MP Mr. Sharma.

DIMENSIONAL PROGRESSIVE THEORY

During Feb. 2024, Dr. Varghese Moolan presented the paper "Dimensional Progressive Theory" in British Parliament before a group of Elite scholars, from nearly 60 countries.

The revolutionized scientific concepts of Quantum Conscious, has been driving thru the integers of boson-fermions, leading to the Nobel prize winning theory of Quantum Entanglement.

The very existence of this visual universe is being created thru "Quantum observation" by the "Cosmic conscious"(GOD); the phenomenon renowned as 'Big Bang.' As a result, the zero dimensional 'singularity' underwent spatial, drastic expansion to form this visual cosmos.

Though most of the matter and antimatter thus formed mutually reacted and disappeared, leaving a few percentage of matter in the form of bosons and fermions particles. Such quarks and gluons gradually developed into sub-atomic protons, neutrons and electrons which coaxed to form atoms, elements, molecules, hydrocarbons, amino acids; and from this primordial Protein soup formed RNA & DNA, thus evolved into microbial loop, and finally organisms.

The physical evolution is always ignited by the conscious evolution in all entities at the atom/cell basis. Just as single atoms, thru nuclear reactions form higher atomic elements and molecules; single organic cells divide and grow to form complex organisms.

Thus, DNA based Microbes underwent the Cambrian explosion to evolve into Pisces, amphibian, mammalian, avis, and primate forms of life.

Yet another form of conscious evolution prevailing in the multi-verse, is in the form of Dimensional Progress.

The zygote in the butterfly egg experiences zero dimensional conscious. But when the egg breaks out into a larva, it walks on a wire rope with the conscious of "single dimension" (1-D). But later it enters the pupa stage, par excellence "physical death" and resurrects as a butterfly with beautiful wings. The "resurrected" butterfly, thus flutters out, experiencing the 3 dimensional cubic space of Length, Width and Height.

Hugged by the British MP after the presentation of "Dimensional Progressive Theory"

Felicitation after the presentation of Dimensional Progressive Theory

'Homo Galactica' - Cosmic Conscious, the ultimate merging goal of man

Likewise, the human embryo, possessing a conscious of zero dimension (0-D), when born to this physical world, experiences a three dimensional (3-D) world. But as he grows up physically and consciously, he gets engrossed in to non-spatial 4 dimensional (4-D) tesseract visual universe, with time as the 4th dimension. This concept was postulated by the Great Scientist, Albert Einstein thru his famous theory of "time-space fabric"

But during the death of a man, his conscious surpasses the time-space limitations by leaving his physical body behind and enters the 5th, 6th, or 7th dimensional plain in the spiritual realm. Dimensions from 5-D to 10-D are a Calabi-Yau manifold where the unique degrees of freedom of the Bosons exist. Since human life forms contain bosons, we are also higher dimensional. The conscious of dead beings gradually ascents to higher dimensional plains of 6-D, 7-D, 8-D, 9-D and finally merges with the absolute 10th dimensional plain of Cosmic Conscious, conceptualized as heaven, Nirvana, Purgatory etc. by various religions.

Quantum loop theory and super string theory have postulated the hypothesis of a 10 dimensional multiversity, which have been theoretically and mathematically proved by many scientists.

95% energy pervading the multi-verse has been labeled as dark energy (68% dark energy and 27% dark matter); simply because of its non-physical manifestation in higher dimensions above the physicality of 3rd dimension. Hence, the physical (4-D) instruments are incapable of detecting the existence of relevant cosmic energy plains.

But mystics like Saints, 'Rishies' and monks are capable of communicating with higher dimensional entities thru their Sixth sense of Pineal Gland- 'the third eye'.

Every living and non-living beings are inner-engineered by micro-conscious to self elevate gradually in conscious and dimensional levels, utilizing affirmative environments. This was the concept, postulated by Aristotle during 3rd Century BC, thru his "Theory of Perfectionism".

The subconscious in every living being urges to steadily and gradually progress dimensionally and finally merge with the pervasive, omnipotent, omniscient and absolute 'Cosmic Conscious' in the 10th Dimension. This is the "Dimensional Progressive Theory" in a nutshell.
